FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

CHARLES LEHMAN WINS NCDA OUTSTANDING CAREER DEVELOPMENT PRACTITIONER AWARD

Broken Arrow, OK – July 17, 2017 – Charles Lehman was presented the NCDA Outstanding Career Development Practitioner Award from National Career Development Association. The award was presented on June 28th in Orlando, FL, at the NCDA Global Conference.

This award honors individuals who provide excellent services daily to students and clients and play a significant role at the local and state levels to promote career development.

Lehman previously held roles within NCDA such as NCDA Treasurer, Western States Regional Trustee, co-chair for the Veterans Committee, and co-chair of the Government Relations Committee. He has been an advocate for career development at the state level- serving as a board member for the New Mexico CDA and also as a consultant with the New Mexico state legislature offering information, statistical analysis and support with all things career-related. One of his nomination letters states “His influence goes far beyond his tenure on the NCDA Board in the career field, as he continues to write for our publications online and magazine, and assists many of the current board members with his insights with problem solving and reminders of fiscal responsibility!”

National Career Development Association is a non-profit organization created to provide professional development, connection, and resources to its membership, all of whom hold positions within the career development field. Through publications, conferences and institutes, and advocacy, NCDA inspires its members to provide quality services to their clients, so they may make informed career choices.
